Little Things Make Trouble.
Usually little things bring the most unexpected trouble. There is nothing except air inside a rubber ball. But if you play with it too recklessly, it is more apt than anything which I know to bound back and hit yourself.—George L. Raymond.

A Hard Knock.
Hub—"One night while you were away I heard a burglar. You should have seen me going downstairs three steps at a time." Wife (who knows him).—"Where was he, on the roof?"—Boston Transcript.

Humorous Object.
Perhaps the funniest thing in the world is the Indignant Subscriber who says to a reporter: "Hereafter you will never again use my name in print."—Atchison Globe.

His Malady.
"What is the matter with your hired man, Luther? Somehow, he 'pears to be all run down." "Well, as near as I can make out, neighbor, the poor fellow is overrested."

Naturally So.
"Did you see where a ship was held up in our ports because it had a cargo of false teeth for Germany?" "Now, mustn't that have made the consignor look down in the mouth?"

Weeping Willow is Chinese.
The weeping willow, so called (scientific name S. babylonica), is a native of China, from which country it has been taken over most of the civilized earth.

Test of Bananas.
Bananas are fit to eat as soon as they have lost all their green color, and remain fit, no matter how black they may be, as long as the skin is unbroken.

Fruits in Cold Storage.
Experiments by scientists have shown that fruits breathe and that cold storage delays their ripening by causing them to breathe more slowly than normally.

Fashion in Lapland.
The men and women of Lapland dress exactly alike—in tunics, leather breeches, wrinkled stockings and pointed shoes.

No Danger of Forgetting.
The eagle on the American dollar is doubtless put there to demonstrate money has wings.—Louisville Herald.

Optimistic Thought.
It is the greatest security from fear to fear the laws.

SUGG THEATRE

THE QUALITY PLAY HOUSE

Standard Pictures, First Run
Universal and Mutual
Service

TONIGHT—PICTURES

"WILD OLIVE."
A five-part version of Basil King's sensational novel. Myrtle Stedman, who plays the part on the screen has caught the spirit of Mr. King's heroine perfectly. Forrest Stanley, who plays Norris Ford, gives a good account of himself as an actor.

A Paramount feature and a Universal 3-reel comedy tonight.

"SILK HOSE AND HIGH PRES-SURE."
Three-reel comedy. Billie Ritchie, Louise Orth and Henry Bergman. "Silk Hose and High Pressure," is one continuous howl from start to finish.

Neal of the Navy

Pathe's latest and greatest motion picture production is refreshing—that's the word for it. It satisfies all your innate desire for dash—excitement—and leaves no unpleasant aftermath. This splendid story was written by William Hamilton Osborne.

Lillian Lorraine is the Captain. Wm. Courtleigh, Jr., is First Mate and the crew are all able seamen.

Coming tomorrow—"Neal of the Navy," featuring Lillian Lorraine and William Courtleigh Jr.

Friday—"The Frameup," George Fawcett in a powerful political drama of a mayor, who could not be bought in 5 acts.

Our house is steam heated, the best of pictures and music, a 25-piece orchestra.
